

Here are the next few pictures of our caterpillars. They have all made their cocoons now.

I had to be very careful when I moved them to the butterfly net. They will stay like this for a few days before they start to emerge as butterflies.

