Are you ready to see a man eating shark?

Disclaimer: it's scary

Really scary....

I mean it...

This is a man eating shark!

A man-eating shark

A man eating shark

Hyphens

Hyphens can be used to make compound adjectives.

e.g. yellow-bellied tight-lipped

Can you make any more?

moth heart tight hot hair red flat cold rock slow

hot headed broken bottom footed eaten blooded witted fisted raising

Ambiguity – This is when the meaning of something can be understood or interpreted in different ways.

As with the 'man eating shark' and the 'maneating shark', sentences with compound adjectives can be confusing without hyphens.

- John had twenty pound notes.
- John had twenty-pound notes.

What are the two different meanings of these sentences? You can write a sentence to describe it or draw a picture!

- Here are all your spelling words for this week.
- They are all hyphenated compound adjectives.
- Write a sentence for each one, making sure you use it as an adjective to describe a noun.
- Challenge: Can you write a sentence using the two words without the hyphen to show a different meaning like the man eating shark example?

(Week 6) (Hyphens: To join compound adjectives to avoid ambiguity) man-eating little-used rock-bottom wide-eyed pig-headed tight-fisted cold-hearted stone-faced
