

Proof reading

Below is a piece of text that we would like you to proof-read. There are lots of mistakes in the piece of text and you have to find the mistakes and correct them. Look out for any missing punctuation or words that might be spelt wrong. We would like you to either re-write the text out correctly in your book or edit the text below. Once you have finished, show the text to an adult so that they can check it and see if you have found all the mistakes!

While I hav been at home I have bin keeping busy On Tuesday I writed a letter to a patient at Lings Bar Hospital. I told them all abowt my hobbies such as baking gardening writing stories and doing Joe Wicks exercises. Also I made a report all about the amazon rainforest I found out lots of interesting facts but my favrit one was that the amazon rainforest produces around 20% of the world's oxygen. I showed it to my class on Zoom and my teacher sed it was great. I really enjoyed seeing george harrison and joe on Zoom because I haven't seen them in such a long time.
