George Floyd and the Protests www.bbc.co.uk/newsround/52813673

What was Blackout Tuesday? www.bbc.co.uk/newsround/52893017

There have been several nights of protests and violent clashes between police and protestors as demonstrations have swept across cities in the US and other cities around the world. The protests in Minneapolis began in reaction to the death of a man named George Floyd after he was stopped by police officers. The protests have now spread across the country to cities including New York, LA, Chicago and Philadelphia. While many protests have been peaceful, many places have seen rioting, looting and violence and President Trump has said he will call in the army if things aren't brought back under control.

Many people are angry about the unfairness and mistreatment of how black African American citizens are treated by the police and in other situations within their lives. They want to raise awareness of racism and are trying to change the opinions and actions of others. As some of the protests have turned violent, they have caused divided opinion. Some people believe that more peaceful methods should be used to help educate and initiate change. Many people in America feel the police and the justice system treat black people unfairly compared to how they treat white people

On Tuesday 2nd June, millions of people around the world shared a plain black image as part of 'Black Tuesday', a global event to protest against racial inequality. Organisers behind the movement asked people to, post a picture of a black square on their social media account, mute their account for the day and use the time they would otherwise be on social media to educate themselves on Black Lives Matter.

- Do we think Blackout Tuesday was an effective way to raise awareness?
- What do you think the benefits are for pausing and using the time to learn?
- Can you think of any other ways to raise awareness about an issue we care about?
- Can you find out about and create a fact file from a person influential to the black civil rights movement e.g. Rosa Parks or Martin Luther King?
