

WALT: To understand what tribal life is like in the rainforest
WILF: I can explain what tribal life is like by:
Bronze- organise information/pictures into categories
Silver- labelling key information/pictures
Gold- creating a text box explaining life in the rainforest
Platinum- Using subordinating conjunctions or fronted adverbials in explanation

For your English activity, we would like you to understand what tribal life was like for the Yanomami. First, stick (or draw!) the pictures into the box you think they fit in. For example, a picture of the Shapono would fit into 'Housing'. Then, we would like you to write sentences that explain more about the pictures. See example below. You might want to write about something that doesn't have a picture. For example, we know from the text that the Yanomami tribe liked to trade things at the Stock Exchange for fun. Use the Amazon Diary text from the last 3 weeks on the Year 3 page to give you ideas about what could fit into each box. If you cannot print this sheet, do not worry as you can draw the table out on paper and not use the pictures (or draw your own!). If you would like to challenge yourself, try and add a subordinating conjunction or fronted adverbial.

Housing

Clothing

Food

Fun

After the men went out hunting and fishing, the women would cook the food in the Shapono.
