

Everything You Need To Know About...

Live videos are where you can obviously record videos live but once you finish your live video they should be unavailable to watch, (this is on Instagram and Facebook software).

On a new update in Instagram your friends' followers can also now watch your videos, which is pretty creepy! You may not know these people so it would be recommendable to try and avoid doing live videos. Snapchat also does videos chats. These can be very dangerous because almost anyone can see them.

CLASH Royale

What is Clash Royale?

Clash Royale is a type of strategy card game where you place your cards and they come to life to attack the towers.

There are in app purchases, so be careful. It is a free download but still ask your parents as well.

Calling New Digital Leaders...

This is the last magazine that the current Digital Leaders will produce. They have been a dedicated and hard working group of children- so thank you!

Next year, the schools across the Equals Trust will be choosing new Digital Leaders. Some of these might be the same children, if they are currently Year 5's, but some will be new.

Watch out in your own school for adverts for new Digital Leaders and you might be writing the next magazine!

A huge thank you to all of this year's Digital Leaders for doing such a great job!

APP SPOTLIGHT:

SNAPCHAT

You may have heard about Snapchat, the mobile app that allows users to capture videos and pictures that 'self-destruct' after a few seconds. Snapchat is aimed at adolescent people (teens) and it is important not to talk to people you don't know. Snapchat asks for your date of birth, if you are under 13 you are taken to the kid version, called "SnapKidz." You need to obey these rules and not lie about your age or you are putting yourself in danger! Obey the rules of this app and all apps to keep yourself safe.

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT... KEEPING SAFE ON YOUR DEVICES

Keeping safe on your device is very important. Here is some advice about keeping safe:

One way of keeping safe is by putting a password on your iPhone, iPod, iPad, or any other device. If you don't have a password on your device, it could get stolen and the person would not need a password to get into your account. They can find out details on settings like finding out your friends' and families' details!

Maybe your apps are not as safe as you think! If you want to you can check it out on the internet and see if a web site says if it's safe. If it's not, then quickly delete it and make sure none of your friends have it.

HELP!

my parents are trying to post embarrassing photos of me!

Parents can be strange and embarrassing especially as you get older but don't worry. We have it all covered. Sometimes, parents like to put up pictures of us on Facebook to share with their friends. These might be a bit embarrassing! Parents don't realise the effect on us if they share a picture where we look silly!

If your parents or guardians are trying to post things you don't like then they are upsetting you so you need to have a word with them about it. Parents should be setting the example about posting online. They should make sure they get your permission before they post a picture of you. This rule applies the same for you. By Holly (Crossdale Primary) & Hannah (Heymann Primary)

Everything You Need To Know About...

What is it?

Talking Tom is an app where you get to talk to a cat and it talks back to you. You can press the buttons under the cat and it will make you laugh by doing something silly.

Why is it dangerous?

Talking Tom is not dangerous but there are false rumours that if you don't get it on the right app store it may contain cameras in its eyes. Don't believe everything you read!

Is it educational? It is not educational but it is fun. If it doesn't have cameras in its eyes there are loads of things that you can do in Talking Tom like if you press the coconut a coconut will fly into its head.

What age do I have to be? The age limit to Talking Tom is 6+. Either way you should ask parents before downloading this app.
