Yesterday we discussed how to be a better friend and came up with loads of great ideas.

Today we are going to put that into practice and see what we could do in different situations.

We want everyone to feel happy and safe around school and we don't want anyone to feel invisible like Brian.

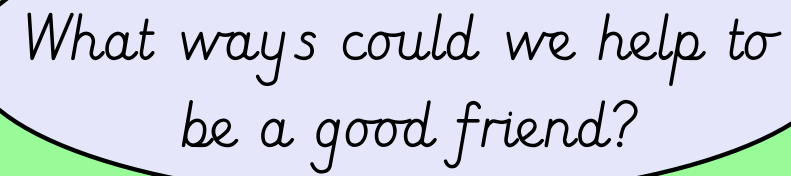

Today we are going to think about what we could say if we see something that we don't agree with and that isn't being a good friend.

These are some situations that might see around school. We are going to be thinking what could we say to someone if we see this happening.

- 1. A new person called Finn starts in your class and you see them around school looking lost.*
- 2. You are playing a game of doh outside and Sarah from your class asks if they can play. Peter shouts 'NO' and runs off.*
- 3. You hear your friend Sam laughing at Hannah's lunch box.*
- 4. At playtime, Elena in your class is sat on their own crying.*
- 5. In lesson time, you're asked to work in groups of 2/3. James is left on their own without a group.*

What ways could we help to be a good friend?

Write down some ideas or talk to an adult.

What ways could we help to be a good friend?

Did you come up with some of these?

- we could give someone a compliment
- try to include others
- help somebody
- stick up for somebody
- comfort somebody or cheer them up

Let's look at one together- what could we say?

1. You are playing a game of dob outside and Sarah from your class asks if they can play. Peter shouts 'NO' and runs off

Here's some ideas of what we could say, You might have different ideas.

or

Sarah you can come and join in our game too. We are playing dob. These are the rules.

Peter, I don't think that is very fair, we should let Sarah play. We wouldn't like it if we were left out.

Now it's your turn.

I would like you to choose some of these situations and write me 4 speech bubbles of things we could say to be a good friend.

1. A new person called Finn starts in your class and you see them around school looking lost.
2. You are playing a game of dot outside and Sarah from your class asks if they can play. Peter shouts 'NO' and runs off.
3. You hear your friend Sam laughing at Hannah's lunch box.
4. At playtime, Elena in your class is sat on their own crying.
5. In lesson time, you're asked to work in groups of 2/3. James is left on their own without a group.
