What food did they eat?

IN THE PALIOLITHIC ERA,THE MEN HAD TO HUNT AND CATCH WILD ANIMALS SUCH AS ... MAMMOTHS, WOOLLY RHINO AND DEER.ALSO THE WOMEN HAD TO PICK NUTS AND BERRIES FROM THE TREES.THE PLACES THAT WERE IMPORTANT TO THE MEN WERE THE FORESTS AND THE WOODS. THE MEN ALSO KILLED ANIMALS BY CHASING THEM OR MAKING A TRAP.IN THE NEOLITHIC,THEY DIDN'T HAVE TO HUNT OR MOVE BECAUSE THEY HAD FARMS AND THEY COULD JUST KILL THE ANIMALS ON THE FARM.

Where did they live?

In the Stone Age, they had three different houses. In the Paleolithic, they had caves and they had to put fire outside the cave so animals ran away. They also had to keep moving from cave to cave because their prey would have kept moving. In the Mesolithic, they made animal skin tents. They did that by killing animals and scraping the skin off them. Finally in the Neolithic, they had permanent houses and they were made out of wattle and daub. Also, in the Neolithic they had farms.

WHAT JOBS DID THEY DO?

One of their jobs were making tools. They made lots of different tools which were called... Flint spears, hammers and bow and arrows. They also did jobs like making fire and clothes. They made fire by rubbing sticks and putting stones around the fire and they made clothes by animal skin or fur. Women had jobs to like cooking and gathering they also made jewellery. Also, men did hunting the women to cook.
