

Written and illustrated by Alice carter

SUPER SILLY STONE AGE

The Stone Age is three big chunks of time called the Palaeolithic Mesolithic and Neolithic . The Stone Age happened 2.6 million years ago. The Stone Age was in prehistoric time prehistoric means before history was recorded. This text will tell you about.

What did they do for jobs?

Where did they live ?

What did they eat?

Where did they live?

In the Palaeolithic, they lived in caves they had to keep on moving to catch and hunt. They made fire to keep wild animals out. In the Mesolithic, they had animal skin tents made out of animal skins. In the Neolithic they had huts made out of Wattle and daub which is made out of water and animal poo. So they have permanent houses.

This is a picture of a cave!

What did they eat?

In the Palaeolithic era they used to hunt for mammoths , deer ,bore and woolly rhinos . In the Palaeolithic Age, they had hunter gatherers a hunter gatherer is more than one hunter hunting together . The Stone Age people thought woods ,florists and in rivers where good places to hunt and streams they stabbed the spears in the stream hopefully they will catch one . Then the Neolithic came and they started farming.

This is a picture of Stone Age tools!

What did they do for jobs?

One of the jobs they did was making tools witch is one of the most important jobs because they have to use tools to hunt for animals . How do they cook meat they have to make a fire and put meat on the rack . In the Palaeolithic age and the Mesolithic age they hunted to prepare animal skins this is called skinning animals . Every day the Women picked berry's and nuts .

Quiz

Where did they live

Caves tents huts

Premeds tents