

Written by Lucy

Stone Age facts

The Stone Age began over 2.5 million years ago and their lives was not like ours.

They were the first people to use stone. Their homes weren't made of bricks and had a sofa.

As a result, it was made out of stone and it had a damp fire pit in the middle of the house.

Contents page

What did their homes
look like? Page 3

What materials did they use? Page 4

What animals did they have? Page 5

What did their homes look like?

Did you know that the houses changed over time it started with dark caves then unsteady tents then curved houses.

Their houses were made of lots of crafty things like straw, animal skin and stone or rock.

The decoration they had tiny windows and it was curved shaped.

What material did they use?

The tools they made was spears and bows and arrows. Twice a year they would get new materials.

The main material they used was animal skin, straw, flint, stone and rock. Also those materials they used to make tools and make houses.

What animals did they have?

In the Stone Age, there were lots of different animals like woolly mammoth, wild boar, Sabretooth tiger, woolly rhino, deer, wild horse, and wolfs/dogs.

Glossary

Woolly mammoth It was kind of like a elephant but with huge tusks.

Flint It is a type of rock.

Straw Horses eat it.

Spears At the top there is flint and stick at the bottom.