

English Lesson 2

Find out information about wolves

Next week we will be making our own nonfiction book about wolves – just like the one the rabbit takes out of the library in the story you started yesterday!

To make our own book we need to make sure that we know lots of facts about wolves. We will be writing some of these down tomorrow so today is all about trying to find out as much as possible.

Here are 2 websites that have lots of information about wolves

1 http://naturemappingfoundation.org/natmap/facts/gray_wolf_k6.html

2 <http://www.sciencekids.co.nz/sciencefacts/animals/wolf.html>

Here are 2 videos that give you some facts too. The second one has some tricky vocabulary in it that you might need to discuss with a grown up first. Ask them to help you find out or explain what nocturnal, territorial and alpha mean?

After you have watched the videos and looked at the websites, have a go at one of the Wolf Reading Comprehension activities on the website. There are 3 different ones which have very similar information but some are a little trickier than others. Can you challenge yourself? Ask a grown-up to help you decide which one to try if you aren't sure.
