

Alberto Giacometti

Today we are learning to...

- Know who Alberto Giacometti was and what he was famous for
- To understand how bodies make different poses

Alberto Giacometti

Born on 10th October 1901 in Switzerland. He studied sculpture and drawing in Geneva. Then he moved to Paris in France. He became a famous artist. He died on 11th January 1966. Lots of his work is still displayed in galleries around the world and is worth lots of money.

Giacometti

He is famous for making sculptures of people like this one of a woman:

Giacometti

The people in his sculptures are very tall and thin. Look at this one showing people walking across a town square:

Giacometti

He said he found it interesting how people in crowds move in and out of each other in different ways.

Now it's your turn...

Can you sketch a figure like Alberto Giacometti?
Can you make it look like one of his? What is your person doing? Are they running, jumping, hopping, standing or pointing?

